

Books issued from the institute library must be returned within fourteen days from the date of issue. Students are responsible for checking the due date at the time of borrowing. If the book is not returned on or before the due date, it will be treated as overdue and penalties will apply automatically.

A late fee of Rs. 10 per day per book will be charged for every day beyond the due date. If a student fails to return a book for an extended period, the library may temporarily suspend borrowing privileges until all pending fines are cleared and the material is returned.

Reference books, journals, archived reports, and rare materials are meant for library use only and cannot be issued for home use. Students must also return books in good condition. In case of damage, loss, or missing pages, the student may be required to replace the book or pay the cost determined by the library administration.
